not to be a farce.

The Figaro's editor is resolved to kill. Count Bonl is equally determined upon blood-letting. The latest news to be got of the affair is that the duel will be fought early to-onds, but it is kept a profound secret.

It is resolved that there shall be no connivance with the police to prevent a meeting, as in the case of the Deroulede-Buffet fiasco in Switzerland.

No one will be present save the principals, seconds and two doctors. The choice of pistols by De Rodays is

He is the best pistol shot in Paris.

"In my opinion it is improper to permit persons attracted by unhealthy curlosity to be present at a duel in which two men are staking their lives"

The seconds of Count Boni de Castellane are Count de Dion and M. Gaston Jollivet. The seconds of M. de Rodays are MM. Prestat and Perrivier The shots will be exchanged at twenty-five paces.

The meeting of the seconds to-day was the result of a call upon De Castellane last evening which almost precipitated another duel.

When they called, the Count declared that he had so little expectation of a challenge by M. de Rodays that he really had not given a thought to the question of saming seconds and had not named any.

Mr. Wessels argued that the position of the troops at present would indicate that if the war could be kept up for a few months longer, victory would be with the Afrikanders.

Mr. Viljoen said that the fire of liberty had not been quenched and that the burghers still hoped for a united South Africa, with a constitution and government modeled on the plan of the United States.

Nervura Remedy

MRS. E. B. HACK, Northfield, Vt., says:

"I was completely prostrated, and could not even keep my eyes open or have any one come into the room. I employed two doctors, who made me worse. I discharged the doctors and began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. The first day I felt the benefit of the Nervura, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I do not think I should be alive to-day if I had not taken Dr. Greene's Nervura."

Dr. Greene's NERVURA

BLOOD AND NERVE REMEDY IS THE IDEAL SPRING MEDICINE.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy encourages the circulation of the blood and builds up the fountains of energy. The nerves are strengthened by it to normal action, and in every way the system is toned up. No medicine in the world is so wonderfully calculated to promote health and build up strength. It is reasonable that this should be so, because Nervura has ever demonstrated its power in reinforcing nature, and in the spring that is what is required by otherwise healthy men and women—just that assistance which will aid them to respond to the call of the change of seasons and prepare for

MRS. ELLEN SIMPSON, 72 Linden Street, New Bedford, Mass., says:

"My daughter, Jennie, had been in feeble health for about two years and for six months had been unable to walk upon the street. Her weakness seemed to proceed from a stomach trouble, and for a long time she had been unable to take other than liquid food. Her condition was such as to give me and my friends great uneasiness. Physicians who were consulted gave no relief and her condition was rapidly growing worse. She had no appetite for food, passed many sleepless nights and required a great deal of attention and care. She fortunately heard of the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in relieving disorders of the stomach and the general system, and almost in desmair, decided to give it a trial. She began taking it and the effect was relieving disorders of the stomach and the general system, and almost in despair, decided to give it a trial. She began taking it and the effect was what the family had desired, but scarcely dared hoped for. In the spring her strength was much increased and her general condition improved. She had gained in strength, was able to eat solid food, her nights were praceful and restful, and her confidence in Dr. Greene's Nervura so great that decided to continue its use. She believes that had she earlier begun the use of Nervura she would have fully recovered long before, as she noted the effects day by day, but having delayed until the ailment became chronic, a much longer course of treatment was necessary."

Dr. Greene's Nervura GIVES STRENGTH TO THE WEAK.

Get Dr. Greene's Nervura now and secure the benefit of its strengthening elements. The weak and suffering are specially depressed and debilitated at this season, and ordinary treatment seems unavailing to help them stand the strain. Nervura is he medicine they need at once. It will help them as nothing with a partly empty vial of laudarum by her side.

Miss Orrick was 21 years old, vivacious and brilliant, of a Mississippi family, related to Admiral Semmes of Confederate fame, and held a high social position. A year ago she became engaged to W. Y. Smith, agent for a steamship company at Savarnah, Ga., but the night before the date set for the wedding changed her mind.

After the "rehearsal" at the church Miss Orrick, who had been very happy, told her sister that she did not love her betrothed as he deserved, as she should love her husband, and would not marry him.

In spite of the entreaties of her friends and family, she refused and fied to Monroe, Ia., the home of relatives. Miss Orrick remained at Monroe until a few days ago, when she decided to return to Clinton. She journeved by way of Jeckson, stopping there over night. She arose in the morning and sent a porter after some laudanum. Miss Orrick received the drug, and left instruction to be called at a certain hour. When the porter knocked at the door he received no response. The room was entered and the young lady found lying dead across the bed.

The recent reports that have been sent to the United States, representing Diaz as being on the verge of physical and mental collaps', I am satisfied are purely sensational. I cannot understand the motive that prompts them. Mr. Eggers told me that President Diaz takes long walks in the vicinity of Cuernavaca, and the day he left there Diaz was out on a hunting faunt."

MAY DO NOTHING FOR CITY LIGHTING PLANT

Board Committee Believes Funds Are Too Low at Present for the Attempt.

"Owing to a shortage of funds," said Sewer Commissioner Hermann, chairman of the special Committee on Lighting, yes-terday, "It is probable that the committee will not, at present, decide to submit to the Board of Public Improvements for transmission to the Municipal Assembly an ordinance to provide for the installation of a municipal power plant in the City Hall for the purpose of furnishing light to the city institutions in the neighborhood.

"The present legislative body will soon disband, and the question of arranging for the lighting of public buildings will likely be one of the first important problems for the new Assembly to consider. The con-tract for lighting public buildings will expire on August 31. The board has been desirous to construct a municipal piant to light the City Hall, Courthouse, Four Courts, old City Hall and temporary City Hospital, but it is doubtful whether that cherished hope will be realized for some months. Probably we shall be obliged to make a new contract for one year, and in the interim provide for the municipal plant."

A communication directed to the House of Delegates on July 10, last year, and filed by that body on the same day, showed that a municipal plant would cost, by estimate, about $33,600, and that about from $10,000 to $15,000 would be saved annually The direct inference was that the plant would save enough in about three years to pay for itself. The House requested the information and afterwards falled to do

"I had a very severe sickness that took off all my hair. I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor and am glad to say that it brought my hair back again and I am not today obliged to be classed among the bald-heads."- W. D. QUINN, Marseilles, Ill., Aug. 25, 1899.

One thing is certain,-Ayer's Hair Vigor feeds the hair and it grows. It could not do differently, for it's Nature's plan. It stops falling of the hair, too. and always restores color to gray hair.

One dollar a bottle.
